LaGuardia To Meet Leaders

LIBERALS TO SOLIDIFY THEIR FORCES AFTER TUESDAY'S ELECTION LOSSES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia today invited all liberal leaders to meet with him in Washington next week to solidify their forces in the face of losses in Tuesday's election.

He asked particularly Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin; Sen. George W. Norris, Nebraska, and Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan who was defeated for re-election.

"As I analyze the results of the election, I believe one must be realistic about it and admit that the progressive forces in several states seemingly have been disintegrated," he said.

"Eliminating New Jersey, where I don't think the question of progressivism enters at all, I am willing to admit that there has been a decided setback. That is because the political schism has not been perfected."

"You have a situation of supporters of progressive, humane, economic welfare legislation being opposed by the old line parties; you have candidates in the Democratic party who are not sympathetic with progressive legislation, and you have progressive candidates in the Republican party who do not agree with the control and management of the party, and the result is an increased strength to the forces of reaction."

"That means but one thing—the progressive forces in this country have got to get together. It also means that labor must adjust its differences, and it also means that there must be a small defined, clear, concise, progressive program."

MRS. JENCKES LOSES RACE FOR CONGRESS

FIGHT WAS BITTER ONE DOWN TO FINAL PRECINCTS IN VIGO

VAN NUYS LEADING WILLIS

Johnson Went Into Vigo County With Majority of More Than Six Thousand

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 10.—The contest for the sixth district congressional seat now held by Mrs. Virginia Jenckes, between Noble Johnson, Republican candidate, and Mrs. Jenckes, was a bitter one down to the final precinct in the "slow count" of Vigo county.

Johnson went into Vigo county with a majority of more than six thousand which he piled up in seven other counties in the district. Big majorities were given him in Hamilton and Hendricks county, these two totalling more than five thousand majority. Boone, Montgomery, Parke, Fountain and Warren counties also added to his majority, while Mrs. Jenckes was winning in Vigo, Vermillion and Putnam.

It was the second time in her races for Congress that Mrs. Jenckes had ever carried Putnam and the majority was small. In 1932 she won Putnam county, but in all other contests, either primary or general election, she failed there.

With 20 precincts of the 95 missing in Vigo county, Johnson was leading with about 4000 and it was not expected that the few precincts left could change the final result.

Mrs. Jenckes in her various races has defeated both Johnson and Fred Purnell in general elections and a half dozen men in her primary fights and her close race with Johnson in this contest came as a big surprise to her and to many keen political observers, but it followed the general trend throughout Indiana.

The Putnam county board of election commissioners resumed their work of checking the returns from the election, Thursday morning, and made a number of changes in the totals that were first reported in both county and city returns.

The corrections made by the board were of minor importance, no change being made in the elections as reported Wednesday.

The corrected vote for city council indicates the election of Raymond R. (Gaumy) Neal, Gwinn Ensign, Leon Welch, Robert Stoner, and Fred Starr, they being the first five of the ten candidates. All excepting Welch are Republicans. The corrected vote for city councilmen is as follows:

Raymond R. Neal, first in number 1556

Gwinn Ensign, second 1488

Leon Welch, third 1389

Robert Stoner, fourth 1384

Fred Starr, fifth 1331

Harold Flint 1304

S. C. Sayers 1294

J. C. Knight 1290

H. W. Voltner 1326

Zol McIntyre 1265

For mayor, the final count gives James 1524, Allan 1305; city clerk-treasurer, Grimes 1469, Bills 1302.

County Council

The votes for the candidates for membership in the county council were small, by comparison with the other offices in the county, because these candidates were voted for only by the voters of their respective councilmanic districts. In the first district, including the north tier of townships and Clinton, the votes were as follows: Nelson F. Scribner, Republican, 1180; Jesse Ford, Democrat, 1169. Mr. Scribner was elected and will succeed Lonie J. Steele, Democrat.

In the fourth district, George (Continued On Page Five)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—With all precincts in Indiana counted but 37, Frederick Van Nuys was leading Ray Willis, Republican candidate for senator, by a total vote of 771,755 to 764,208 votes.

By Paul T. Smith

United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—Senator Frederick Van Nuys and Raymond E. Willis, Republican nominee, ran a photo-finish in the stretch of Indiana's senatorial race today with Van Nuys holding a lead of exactly 1,700 according to unofficial returns, and only 205 precincts remaining untallied.

Thirty vital precincts from Vigo county which remain untallied may hold Van Nuys fate. This Democratic stronghold at present is giving a lead of 3,200 votes to Van Nuys and its remaining precincts may offset any lead that Willis could accumulate in the untallied rural precincts.

Last night a delegation of Republicans headed by State Chairman Arch N. Bobbitt went to Terre Haute to maintain close watch over the count to see that there were no irregularities.

Bobbitt also consulted National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton and was assured that the national committee would stand by Indiana Republicans in any action taken to preserve a fair count or make any investigative steps after the vote was completed.

Democratic party leaders, however, after analyzing the outstanding precincts yet to be counted said that they were confident Van Nuys would hold an edge in most of them and would win in the closest election for a major state office in Indiana's history.

It also appeared, as the total vote crawled toward the 1,500,000 mark, that a new record ballot for an Indiana "off-year" election would be established.

Even if Van Nuys does finally defeat Willis in the most astounding campaign in a generation, the Republicans unquestionably have scored a tremendous victory over the gargantuan Democratic organization.

The survey today showed:

1. Election of six of Indiana's 12 congressmen with the possibility of gaining a seventh.

2. Gains in the House of the state legislature which finally may bring them up to even strength with the Democrats.

3. The bare possibility that the Republican state ticket may have been elected.

The only congressional race remaining in doubt is the Sixth district where Congressman Virginia Jenckes is trailing Noble J. Johnson, Republican.

The Republicans won six seats, the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh and 10th districts by resounding majorities.

Those elected were: Charles Hallock, who has been the only Hoosier Republican congressman until today; Robert A. Grant of South Bend, member of the St. Joseph county liquor board; Dr. George W. Gille of Fort Wayne, who administered an astonishing thumping to Congressman James I. Farley; Forrest R. Kunkin, who served as special federal prosecutor of the late utilities magnate, Samuel Insull; Gerald Landis of Linton, a high school coach; and Raymond Springer, Republican nominee for governor in 1932 and 1936 who eliminated the

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Raymond E. Willis, Republican senatorial candidate, arrived here today to confer with Arch N. Bobbitt, State Chairman, on the possibility of demanding a recount of the votes in several counties including Lake, Vigo, Clay and others where large Democratic votes were recorded.

They were discussing the prospects of financing such a project and may consult the Republican national committee for assistance.

They were hopeful that in view of the close race between Willis and Sen. Van Nuys that Willis might be elected in a recount.

F. D. R. WOULD HAVE BEEN RE-ELECTED, SAYS ICKES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes said today President Roosevelt would have been re-elected if he had been running Tuesday and that he considered liberal sentiment as strong or stronger than ever.

Ickes said the voters who swept scores of Republicans into office "in their eagerness to acquire economic security, are sometimes following false gods."

He cited Republicans who "out-promised" New Deal candidates on such issues as old age pensions and predicted that many would be defeated when they were unable to fulfill their promises.

"District by district, state by state, you can't fit it into any pattern at all of repudiation of President Roosevelt's liberal policies," Ickes said.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Republican victories reduced the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives by almost 80 votes today as late returns came in from the farm belt and the far west.

The resurgence of the G. O. P. represented party advances which swept across the northern half of the country from Massachusetts to Oregon, virtually unimpeded by state lines.

A tabulation of almost complete results—which came close to the most optimistic Republican predictions—showed the new House lineup to be as follows:

Democrats, 260; Republicans, 165; Progressives, 2; Farm-Labor, 1; G. O. P. gain, 77; doubtful, 7.

This compared to the one-sided lineup of 328 Democrats, 88 Republicans, seven Progressives, five Farmer-Laborites, and seven vacancies in the last House. In addition, Republicans were running ahead in two California races for Democratic seats and were in close fights for still undecided seats in Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Maryland and Washington.

The New Deal was left nevertheless with a majority of around 100 votes, but the House liberal bloc, which included Progressives and Farmer-Laborites, was almost wiped out.

The results promised to strengthen the combination of Republicans and conservative Democrats which blocked such New Deal measures as the reorganization bill last session, but the effect of the increase of Republican strength on Democratic unity remained to be tested.

TWO GUNMEN IMPERSONATED STATE POLICEMEN; HANDCUFFED GARNER TO CAR

GREENFIELD, Ind., Nov. 10.—(UP)—An alarm was spread through five states today in hopes of capturing a pair of vaudeville artists who ambushed a bank messenger on a highway east of Greenfield and escaped with $60,000.

Two gunmen, impersonating state policemen by wearing blue uniforms and using a screeching police siren and waving guns, forced Byron Garner, 28-year-old employee of the citizens State Bank of New Castle, Ind., to the side of the road as he was carrying the payroll of the Chrysler Motor Company of New Castle from an Indianapolis bank.

Garner thought they were ordinary policemen until they shoved a double-barrel shotgun and a revolver in his face and grabbed the money sack.

"I knew then they were holdup men," the messenger later told Greenfield Police Chief O. E. Chandler.

After handcuffing Garner to the steering wheel of his car and stripping ignition wires to prevent pursuit, the bandits fled toward Indianapolis.

Garner was released by Chandler, who was notified by John Robert, a Greenfield insurance salesman, who found Garner. The handcuff links (Continued on Page Two)

"Arms And The Man" Is First Of Outstanding Plays

Duzer Du today is looking ahead to one of its most significant seasons as G. B. Shaw's "Arms and the Man" is being whipped into final form for production Friday and Saturday nights.

The opus will cause many to remember "the good old days" when Duzer Du presented the works of such dramatists as Ibsen. Indeed, "Arms and the Man" is the initial production of a season of high caliber plays celebrating the honorary silver anniversary.

Cast Is Named

The cast, headed by Bill Merence and Jeanne Schnackenberg of last year's "Night of January Sixteenth," includes Betty Hodge, Bill Belshaw, Elbert Bowen, Dick Corson, and Mary Margaret Harrington.

Although the satire is aimed specifically at the provincial militarism of the Balkans, its telling thrusts are universal in their application.

FAMILIAR SPIRITUALS

SCHEDULED IN PROGRAM

The Eva Jessye choir, the choir selected by George Gershwin to appear in his folk-opera, "Porgy and Bess," will present a concert in McHenry hall this evening at 8:15.

The concert is being sponsored by Pi Kappa Lambda, Phi Mu Alpha, and Mu Phi Epsilon, DePauw music honoraries.

Acknowledged by many critics to be one of the outstanding negro choral ensembles in the country, the Eva Jessye choir appeared in "Porgy and Bess" in New York for over a year and also sang in the revival of that folk-opera on the west coast. The choir is directed by Eva Jessye, noted woman choral conductor and musical director of the first negro talking picture, "Hallelujah."

Program Is Popular

The program includes familiar and well-liked spirituals, work songs, hero legends, and modern blues songs, such as "St. Louis Blues," "Summertime," "Casey Jones," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," and "Water Boy."

Several outstanding soloists will also perform during the concert. John Garth, baritone, Robert Nolan, pianist, and James Waters, guitarist will be included.

Tickets for the concert are fifty cents.

VAN NUYS LEADS

(Continued from Page One) picturesque Democrat, Finly Gray. Landis eliminated the dean of Indiana's congressmen, Arthur Greenwood, by a margin which will probably reach 4,000 votes.

Democrats definitely retained five seats, those of: William Schulte of Hammond in the industrial First district; John W. Boehne of Evansville in the Eighth district; Eugene B. Crowe of Bedford in the Ninth; William H. Larrabee of New Palestine in the 11th, and Louis Ludlow, veteran sponsor of the war referendum resolution in the last Congress, in the 12th.

Preliminary count of the state legislature indicated that the Republicans have won 51 seats in the House and gained three seats in the Senate, although they could not win control there.

This will present an interesting legislative problem for Gov. M. Clifford Townsend and his Democratic leaders since a welter of highly controversial problems is scheduled for consideration at the 1939 session. Among them are revision of the state's liquor laws, revision of the Indiana marriage laws, and many another measure of high political consequence.

Edward Stein of Bloomfield, Democratic speaker in the last two sessions of the House, was re-elected as was James M. Knapp of Wayne county, Republican minority leader in the last two sessions who also has been speaker in the past.

The five major state offices at stake or the seven judicial posts on the Appellate and Supreme courts has not been decided due to the late count of the vote for these prizes.

With about two-thirds of the precincts counted for secretary of state, the first state office on the ballot and the "key" office in determining the trend of the state ticket, James M. Tucker, Republican nominee, held a margin of about 3,000 votes over Edward Koennemann, Democrat. But both sides admitted that this was not conclusive and that if Van Nuys is definitely elected by several thousand votes, the state ticket may be Democratic by an eye-lash also.

If the Republicans did carry the state offices it would mean more in political prestige and statehouse jockeying than in substantial political patronage.

The McNutt governmental reorganization bill placed all the patronage of the state administration in the hands of the governor except the assistant of elected officials.

Consequently the Democratic control over such organizations as the state police, the liquor commission, the motor vehicle commission and other important administrative bodies would not be disturbed.

Analysis of the Van Nuys vote reveals that if he is elected it will be due to the Democratic complexion of major Indiana municipalities such as Indianapolis, Gary, Hammond, Evansville and Terre Haute. Van Nuys definitely was not the favorite of the agricultural areas which have had 30 cent corn for months. If Willis had had only a share of the vote of organized labor, he might have been far in the lead today.

However, Van Nuys had the support of all labor factions, including an endorsement by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Willis could not buck the Democrats on this front.

What the 1938 election means to the Democratic strategy to elect former Gov. Paul V. McNutt as president in 1940 had not been decided. But it is definite that the prestige of the vaunted McNutt Democratic organization has been lowered by the Republicans, who without finances of any semblance of a strong organization upset the "Two Per Cent" club and the vast Democratic state machine.

State police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation immediately entered the case and had descriptions of the men and their automobile. A radio alarm was flashed through Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Michigan, and Indiana, in hopes the desperadoes might be nabbed crossing state borders.

First Ward P. T. A.

Members Enjoy Program

The First Ward P. T. A. observed Father's Night and held open house Wednesday evening, November 9th. Fathers and mothers visited each of the six rooms and met the teachers and enjoyed looking over the various work of the children that was displayed. Many interesting things were to be seen in each of the beautifully decorated rooms including Indian relics, safety posters and Thanksgiving art in observance of American Education Week.

The regular P. T. A. meeting followed in the auditorium with a large number of parents present. After two special musical numbers by DePauw students, the Rev. H. C. Feller gave the devotions and Dr. F. M. Vreeland of DePauw university gave an interesting lecture on his travels this past summer, painting a vivid picture of the old countries with their war worries and contrasting our educational advantages.

The attendance banner was won by the fifth and sixth grades, there being a tie between the two rooms.

Refreshments of home made candy and apples were served by the room hostesses and officers.

MICHIGAN SURVEYS RESULTS

DETROIT, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Michigan today surveyed the results of a major New Deal reversal in this state.

The magnitude of the Republican victory at Tuesday's election became increasingly apparent when final returns showed that Democrats salvaged only 55 seats in Congress, nine in the state senate and 26 in the state house of representatives.

Governor-elect Frank D. Fitzgerald who defeated Gov. Frank Murphy by about 90,000 votes will have a comfortable working majority in the legislature. There will be 23 Republicans and nine Democrats in the legislature. There will be 23 Republicans and nine Democrats in the legislature. The 1937 legislature consisted of a senate divided 17 to 15 in favor of the Democrats and a house divided 60 to 40 in favor of the Democrats.

The election gave Michigan 12 Republican congressmen to five Democrats. Eleven of the Republicans and four of the Democrats have no experience in the house of representatives.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their beautiful floral offerings and many acts of kindness during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father, William Lee Denman.

OBITUARY

Thomas Hart Morris was born, August 22, 1852 near Cloverdale. He was the oldest child of Albert F. and Celinda Hart Morris. His parents moved after a time to Clinton township where they lived until 1866 when they bought the farm north east of Cloverdale. It was here and in Cloverdale that he spent most of his long busy life.

He attended school as the average boy of that time and taught school two years in the country school on their farm.

In 1884 he married Ella Graham of Columbus, Indiana, but after a short time she died and he was left alone. Some years later he married Belle Mugg of Quincy, she also, died after a few years leaving him with two small children, Albert Gale, and Lena. In 1901 he married Sadie Dickinson of Danville, Indiana. To them were born three children, Mary Mabel, Alberta Frances, and Edna Mae.

Lena and Alberta were taken away by death, the one still a child, but the second a young woman. While the children were small he with his family moved to the farm where he spent the next 27 years farming and directing the farm.

He loved people and life. He loved old friends and enjoyed meeting people and making new friends; he especially enjoyed young people; was glad to hear their plans and see them launch into a successful life work.

As a boy he went into the Church where he has been a member and also a deacon for many years. He loved the study of the Word of God.

Six years ago he moved to a farm north east of Greencastle. Even though then nearly eighty, his active body and keen mind made him an enjoyable companion and he made many new acquaintances. He was glad to encourage and otherwise help anyone who came to him. Since he became ill about one and one-half years ago he has aged rapidly. He patiently looked forward to the end as he did not enjoy being helpless and suffering, although he was reconciled to the state which was so unusual to him. He went to his reward Saturday night, October 22 at 10 o'clock, as he had lived, quietly, and peacefully. He leaves his wife, three children, one daughter-in-law, one son-in-law and a granddaughter, his only sister, Mrs. Joyce Ann Davis of Arkansas City, Kansas and many friends and neighbors.

THE UNSEEN SHORE
At the end of the Earth's last day in the silent hush he sailed away, Away to the far off isles into the mystic bay of the unseen shore. And we, his friends, whom his heart held dear in silent sorrow shed a tear.

But he has peacefully furled his sail in the harbor of rest sheltered from storm and gale, And is with the ones who have sailed before, O'er the unknown sea to the unseen shore.

Old Monon Bell Again Dusted Off For DPU-Wabash Clash Saturday

A seldom heard, but very familiar ringing will soon be in DePauw students' ears again.

Freshmen's ears, tutored by now to clamoring alarm clocks and the persistent warnings of Meharry's sex-togenarian, will be attuned to another traditional tolling here at Asbury—that of an old locomotive bell, polished and mounted on a sturdy chassis to represent football supremacy from year to year between the Tigers and the Wabash Cavemen.

For the Monon Victory Bell, snugly tucked away in Bowman gymnasium this last year, is being dusted off for Friday's pep session, and Saturday afternoon it will again be put up for gridiron auction.

Back in 1932 Oran W. Fifer, a DePauw grad on the editorial staff of the Indianapolis News, conceived the idea of establishing some sort of token to be traded between Wabash and DePauw, to be held a year by the school winning the annual football contest.

He wrote an open letter to the sports editor of the News proposing the idea, the two schools agreed, and the Monon railroad, as a servant of both Greencastle and Crawfordsville,

The cast bronze bell was carefully polished to bring out the DePauw "gold" and the special constructed chassis was painted a bright red to represent Wabash.

The bell went to DePauw first, for the Tigers had clawed up the Cavemen the preceding year by a 13-7 count. The '32 game brought difficulties, for it ended in a scoreless tie, and

IN GOES A NICKEL'S WORTH—BUT LET US HAVE PEACE

The picnic season is here again. . . .

Before I have a chance to split an infinitive, misspell the coach's name or tell you the wrong team won—let me introduce the brawny member of the team. On the left is "Butch", who found a basket under his crib and since then has been unable to get it out of his hands. He is a very fine fellow. He hasn't smoked any cigars lately. The figure on the right is "Hoot", who entertains his teammates by saying "Hi, ho Silver," as he snorts under the basket. He, too, is a fine fellow, and is very much a favorite with the ladies.

Keep the identities well in mind and don't confuse "Butch" with William Glynn Downey in a characteristic pose, or "Hoot" with William Glynn Bishop in the process of satisfying a secret ambition by coming out in the gym at 2 o'clock in the morning.

Butch and Hoot will be around for a while—Hope you like 'em—and mean you.

Warm Up

Reasonably

department will make every effort this year to conduct an interesting service for the fans. While we can't guarantee to follow Emily

Post or Wayne Marshall of Martinsville on the fine points of etiquette, we will attempt to keep the majority happy and contented.

However, climbing out on a limb while dangerous—is a lot of fun. This corner expects to try it. If you can, slap me down. (I do remember there's a town named Putnamville).

See if you like this:

1. Send your brilliant thoughts to Hardwood. Mail is awfully satisfying. It's not necessary to print your name, although it always is a little more interesting. But be sure your identity is clear, else the mail will be disregarded.

2. County fans! Keep us posted. Space in this column is always open for comment—good or bad—from the old sideline hounds in every school in the county. A happy family is what we like.

3. Lastly — Although the thought may be a little too broad for strict truth, here's hoping for successful season for all. Liven up your weekend and park your heels at the basketball game.

General comment ran favorably after the Cubs, under Coach Glynn Downey's mentorship, cracked into the running last week with a decisive victory over Danville.

The boys have plenty of speed; what is more they are big.

However, the lop-sidedness of the final score betrayed Danville's weakness rather than any sure "power-house" strength on the part of the Downeymen.

Martinsville, sure to have a tough outfit, rolls in here Friday. The Cubs are certain for a real test.

When the smoke rolls away something will show up clearly. But we've got a hunch, and a good one, that old Hardwood will be writing for a winning team this year. Oh, mama, we hope so.

Come around Friday, but keep your neck in.

THAT MAN'S HERE AGAIN

There's always just a little disadvantage in entertaining Martinsville. There's an alleged reporter down there who insists upon tagging along to see the scenery.

His name is Marshall. Last year he wrote a little ditty about "Snow White and the Seven Artesians." Marshall claimed he wasn't Dopey.

Earlier, Hardwood lifted two-bits from Marshall's moth-lined pocket when the Cubs licked Mr. Curtis' storm troops.

Again it's time for a challenge. Mr. Marshall knows it's his turn.

Not Kidnaped

Dean Tripp

Little Dean Tripp, 3, of Floral Park, L. I., wasn't kidnaped as his parents and federal agents believed. Dean merely was taken by the Tripp gardener, George O'Connell, to a friend's house for the week-end. When he returned the boy, O'Connell told police he had attempted to call the Tripp home, but received no answer.
